

Vicki Michael Anderson

Faculty status:

assistant, Education

Academic Degrees:

Indiana University, 2011, PhD in Linguistics

Ball State University, 1997, MA in TESOL and Linguistics

Summit Christian College, 1991, BA in World Mission and Bible

Professional Experience:

2011-2012, Indiana University Intensive English Program, adjunct instructor of ESL

2010, Indiana University Department of Linguistics, associate instructor in sociolinguistics

2002-2004, Indiana University Department of Linguistics, associate instructor in sociolinguistics, language and gender, and ebonics

P-12 Experience:

Current Professional and Academic Association Memberships:

Current Professional Assignments and Activities:

Member of abstract reviewing committee, NAWAV (New Ways of Analyzing Variation) sociolinguistics conference to be held in October 2012 at Indiana University, Bloomington, Indiana

Publications and Presentations:

Presentation: "Complexity and the Distinctiveness Criterion: An Argument in Support of Bidialectalism among Speakers of Pennsylvania Dutchified English / South Central Pennsylvania Regional Standard English" (SALSA XIV:2006, April 9, University of Texas-Austin)

Presentation: "Compromise in the acoustics: A sociophonetic analysis of obstruent devoicing in Pennsylvania Dutchified English" (GURT [Georgetown Round Table on Languages and Linguistics] 2006, March 4, Georgetown University)

Presentation: "Composite of two levels: the case of obstruent devoicing in Pennsylvania Dutchified English" (Penn Linguistics Colloquium 29 (2005), February 26, University of Pennsylvania)

Awards and Recognitions:

2006 Dissertation Fellowship Award (Indiana University College of Arts and Sciences)

1999-2004 Chancellors PhD Fellowship Award (Indiana University College of Arts and Sciences)