Teaching Activities

Please give a brief description of classes taught/observed. Include grade level, subject, topic, etc.

I observed reading, science, PE, morning procedures, art, health, library, chapel, nap time, lunch, recess and other activities with the kindergarten class.

I continued teaching social studies, math, and phonics. This week I added religion and we went over the Easter story of the women at the tomb. In math, we just finished our unit on patterns. Social studies is still world culture, and we got to do a special study on Ireland for St. Patrick's Day. We are working on long vowel sounds in phonics. I got to use the Promethian board for some of my lessons. I have not seen Mrs. Brown use the Promethian except to show a video. I used it for a word sort, and to show a powerpoint.

Extracurricular Activities: Indicate whether your role was as a participant, observer or leader. Include only those activities directly related to your assignment at the school and/or congregation.

Last Tuesday afternoon was an in-service day. For my extracurricular activity, I am planning a field trip to the Sioux City Museum. On Tuesday, I spent my time at the museum and making permission slips telling the parents about our field trip.

Please continue on the next page.

Briefly share one positive experience from this week

One thing that really put a smile on my face is that when I was talking to Lillian after chapel, she just randomly said, "I love praising God!" It is so sweet to see these kids enjoy learning about Jesus and praising God.

Oh and my sinuses are not so bad any more :-)

Briefly share one problem or negative experience. Do you want assistance in dealing with this?

St. Paul's communication system is not the greatest. It seems that no one ever really knows what is going on. For example, they are working on an musical production for May. I am staying with the third grade teacher who keeps telling me what Mrs. Brown and I are doing for that, but Mrs. Brown had never heard about it. No one knows really knows what is expected. We have staff meetings with devotion every morning, but that doesn't seem to help with the communication. I don't really need assistance with this, but it is an interesting dynamic at this school.

Do you have any other comments, questions or needs?

Ashlea and I are working on putting together a schedule for your visit. Do you still want a recommendation on a place to stay or will you stay with your nephew?
