What Do Special Education Teachers Do?

Special education teachers work with students who have a wide range of learning, mental, emotional and physical disabilities. With students who have mild or moderate disabilities, they ensure that lessons and teaching strategies are modified to meet the students' needs.

Placement Assistance

We have an entire office dedicated to working through the call and placement process for those seeking positions within The Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod or assisting with credential files and interviews for those looking at options in other parochial or public schools.

Hands-on Experience

Beyond the standard student teaching requirement, Concordia requires 100 hours of classroom observation; student teachers have been placed all over the U.S. and in a number of foreign countries.

Dual Certification

Graduates will be certified within the state of Nebraska and for those that choose the Lutheran Teacher Diploma program, you will also be certified to teach within the LCMS system.
