

Praxis II – Elementary Education Curriculum, Instruction, and Assessment (EECIA)

The NDE does not require a Praxis II license exam for certification, but does indicate for elementary and early childhood candidates on their teaching certificate that they are “highly qualified” if the candidate has received a passing score on the Elementary Education Curriculum, Instruction, and Assessment test (EECIA). Data on the EECIA scores for program completers for the past five years is included in the chart below. The scores are disaggregated by program – early childhood, elementary, and special education.
