

Angie Wassenmiller, our e-Learning and Instructional Technology Director, and Patrick Hargon, Director of the Academic Resource Center, regularly assist in technology training and implementation. Angie also teaches the Instructional Technology course now required of all teacher education candidates. Regular drop-in hours are scheduled by the two of them. Opportunities to share information on iPad usage as well as other learning opportunities are coordinated by them. A blog is also available for sharing information among faculty members.

February 18

Please feel free to drop in for Blackboard, instructional design, or technology integration assistance this week. Our hours are slightly different than last week, due to scheduling.

Monday & Wednesday, 1:00 - 3:00, Patrick Hargon (Link Library)

Tuesday & Thursday, 1:00 - 3:00, Angie Wassenmiller (Jesse 203)
