Assessment Handbook

edTPA stems from a twenty-five-year history of developing performance-based assessments of teaching quality and effectiveness. The Teacher Performance Assessment Consortium (Stanford and AACTE) acknowledges the National Board for Professional Teaching Standards, the Interstate Teacher Assessment and Support Consortium, and the Performance Assessment for California Teachers for their pioneering work using discipline-specific portfolio assessments to evaluate teaching quality. This version of the handbook has been developed with thoughtful input from over six hundred teachers and teacher educators representing various national design teams, national subject matter organizations (ACEI, ACTFL, AMLE, CEC, IRA, NAEYC, NAGC, NCSS, NCTE, NCTM, NSTA, SHAPE America), and content validation reviewers. All contributions are recognized and appreciated.

Introduction to edTPA Middle Childhood History/Social Studies

Purpose

The purpose of edTPA Middle Childhood History/Social Studies, a nationally available performance-based assessment, is to measure novice teachers' readiness to teach history/social studies to young adolescents. The assessment is designed with a focus on young adolescent learning and principles from research and theory. It is based on findings that successful teachers

- develop knowledge of subject matter, content standards, and subject-specific pedagogy
- develop and apply knowledge of varied students' needs
- consider research and theory about how students learn
- reflect on and analyze evidence of the effects of instruction on student learning

As a performance-based assessment, edTPA is designed to engage candidates in demonstrating their understanding of teaching and student learning in authentic ways.

Overview of the Assessment

The edTPA Middle Childhood History/Social Studies assessment is composed of three tasks:

1. Planning for Instruction and Assessment
2. Instructing and Engaging Students in Learning
3. Assessing Student Learning

For this assessment, you will first plan 3–5 consecutive history/social studies lessons (or, if teaching history/social studies within a large time block, about 3–5 hours of connected instruction) referred to as a learning segment. Consistent with the National Curriculum Standards for Social Studies (NCSS)¹ and additional state and national content standards² as appropriate, a learning segment prepared for this assessment should reflect a balanced approach to history/social studies. This means your segment should include learning tasks where young adolescents have opportunities to develop and apply the knowledge, intellectual processes, and disciplinary practices required to become active and productive citizens. In addition, your lesson plans should provide opportunities for learners to develop and use facts, concepts, and the skills of inquiry, interpretation or analysis to build and support arguments or conclusions about historical events, a topic/theme, or a social studies phenomenon.

¹ The National Curriculum Standards for Social Studies developed by the National Council for Social Studies and the C3 Framework (College, Career and Civic Life) for Social Studies State Standards developed by 15 professional social studies organizations, can be found at <http://www.socialstudies.org/standards> and <http://www.socialstudies.org/system/files/c3/C3-Framework-for-Social-Studies.pdf>, respectively.

² For example, the National Standards for History (National Center for History in the Schools, 1996), the Voluntary National Content Standards in Economics (Council for Economic Education, 2010), Geography for Life: National Geography Standards (Geography Education National Implementation Project, 2012), and the National Standards for Civics and Government (Center for Civic Education, 1994).

Finally, consistent with the recommendations provided by the Association for Middle Level Education (AMLE),³ a learning segment prepared for this assessment should be “developmentally responsive, challenging, empowering, and equitable.” While the full scope of AMLE’s recommendations will not be feasible in a short learning segment, you should design your lessons to provide challenging and responsive opportunities for young adolescents to learn history/social studies.

After you plan your learning segment, you will then teach the learning segment, making a videorecording of your interactions with students during instruction. You will also assess, informally and formally, students’ learning throughout the learning segment. Upon completion of the three tasks, you will submit artifacts from the tasks (e.g., lesson plans, clips from your videorecording, assessment materials, instructional materials, student work samples), as well as commentaries that you have written to explain and reflect on the Planning, Instruction, and Assessment components of the tasks. The artifacts and commentaries for each task will then be evaluated using rubrics especially developed for each task.

The edTPA Tasks and the Cycle of Effective Teaching

The three edTPA tasks represent a cycle of effective teaching (i.e., teaching that is focused on student learning). Planning Task 1 documents your intended teaching, Instruction Task 2 documents your enacted teaching, and Assessment Task 3 documents the impact of your teaching on student learning.

³ See the AMLE Middle Level Teacher Preparation Standards at <http://www.amle.org/AboutAMLE/ProfessionalPreparation/AMLEStandards/tabid/263/Default.aspx>.

The three tasks and the evidence you provide for each are framed by your understandings of your students and their learning. As you develop, document, and teach your lessons, you will reflect upon the cyclical relationship among planning, instruction, and assessment, with a focus on your students' learning needs.

Evidence of Teaching Practice: Artifacts and Commentaries

An essential part of edTPA is the evidence you will submit of how you planned, taught, and assessed your lessons to deepen young adolescent learning in history/social studies. This evidence includes both artifacts and commentaries:

- Artifacts represent authentic work completed by you and your students. These include lesson plans, copies of instructional and assessment materials, video clips of your teaching, and student work samples.
- Commentaries are your opportunity to describe your artifacts, explain the rationale behind their choice, and analyze what you have learned about your teaching practice and your students' learning. Note that although your writing ability will not be scored directly, commentaries must be clearly written and well focused.

When preparing your artifacts and commentaries, refer to the rubrics frequently to guide your thinking, planning, and writing. Refer to the Middle Childhood History/Social Studies Evidence Chart for information about how your evidence should be formatted for electronic submission.

Evaluation Criteria

The rubrics used to score your performance are included in this handbook, following the sections describing the directions for each task. The descriptors in the five-level rubrics address a wide range of performance, beginning with the knowledge and skills of a novice not ready to teach (Level 1) and extending to the advanced practices of a highly accomplished beginner (Level 5).

Structure of the Handbook

The following pages provide specific instructions on how to complete each of the three tasks of the edTPA Middle Childhood History/Social Studies assessment. After an overview of the tasks, the handbook provides instructions for each task, organized into four sections:

1. What Do I Need to Think About?
This section provides focus questions for you to think about when completing the task.
2. What Do I Need to Do?
This section provides specific, detailed directions for completing the task.
3. What Do I Need to Write?
This section tells you what you need to write and also provides specific and detailed directions for writing the commentary for the task.
4. How Will the Evidence of My Teaching Practice Be Assessed?
This section includes the rubrics that will be used to assess the evidence you provide for the task.

Additional requirements and resources are provided for you in this handbook:

- Professional Responsibilities: guidelines for the development of your evidence
- Middle Childhood History/Social Studies Context for Learning Information: prompts used to collect information about your school/classroom context
- Middle Childhood History/Social Studies Evidence Chart: specifications for electronic submission of evidence (artifacts and commentaries), including templates, supported file types, number of files, response length, and other important evidence specifications
- Glossary: definitions of key terms can be accessed by rolling your cursor over each glossary term marked with a dotted underline throughout the handbook or by referring to the Middle Childhood History/Social Studies Glossary.

You should review the Making Good Choices document prior to beginning the planning of the learning segment. If you are in a preparation program, it will have additional resources that provide guidance as you develop your evidence.

Review all instructions carefully before beginning to teach the learning segment to ensure that you are well prepared for all tasks. Before you record your videos, pay particular attention to the specific content focus of each video clip submission; these foci are described in the What Do I Need to Do? sections in Instruction Task 2 and Assessment Task 3. Refer to the Professional Responsibilities section of this handbook for important information about permissions, confidentiality, and other requirements.

If your program requires you to submit artifacts and commentaries for official scoring, refer to www.edTPA.com for complete and current information before beginning your work and to download templates for submitting materials. The website contains information about the registration process, submission deadlines, submission requirements, withdrawal/refund policies, and score reporting. It also provides contact information should you have questions about your registration and participation in edTPA.

Whether submitting directly to www.edTPA.com or via your program's electronic portfolio management system, follow the submission guidelines as documented in the Evidence Chart and review edTPA Submission Requirements to ensure that your materials conform to the required evidence specifications and requirements for scoring.

Planning Task 1: Planning for Instruction and Assessment

What Do I Need to Think About?

In Planning Task 1, you will describe your plans for the learning segment and explain how your instruction is developmentally appropriate for young adolescents and the content you are teaching. As you develop your plans, you need to think about the following:

- What do your students know, what can they do, and what are they learning to do?
- What do you want your students to learn? What are the important understandings, core concepts, and interdisciplinary connections you want students to develop within the learning segment?
- How will you use your knowledge of your students' assets to inform your plans?
- What instructional strategies, learning tasks, and assessments will you design to support young adolescent learning and language use?
- How will your learning segment support students to develop and use language that deepens content understanding?
- How is the teaching you propose supported by research and theory about how young adolescents learn?

What Do I Need to Do?

- Select a class. If you teach more than one class, select one focus class for this assessment. If your placement for history/social studies has you responsible for a group rather than a whole class, plans should describe instruction for that group (minimum of 4 students). That group will constitute “the whole class” for edTPA.
- Provide context information. The Middle Childhood History/Social Studies Context for Learning Information form is provided later in this handbook and must be submitted in a template. This form provides essential information about your students and your school/classroom. The context information you submit should be no more than 4 pages, including prompts.
- Identify a learning segment to plan, teach, and analyze. Review the curriculum with your cooperating teacher and select a learning segment of 3–5 consecutive lessons. (If teaching history/social studies within a large time block, select a learning segment of about 3–5 hours of connected instruction.)
- Identify a central focus. Identify the central focus along with the content standards and objectives you will address in the learning segment. The central focus should support young adolescents in learning and using facts and concepts, and inquiry, interpretation, or analysis skills to build and support arguments or conclusions about historical events, a topic/theme, or a social studies phenomenon, as well as support young adolescents in making interdisciplinary connections.

- ❑ Identify and plan to support language demands. Select a key language function from your learning objectives. Choose a learning task that provides opportunities for students to practice using that language function. Identify additional language demands associated with that task. Plan targeted supports that address the identified language demands, including the language function.
- ❑ Write a lesson plan for each lesson in the learning segment. Your lesson plans should be detailed enough that a substitute or other teacher could understand them well enough to use them.
- ❑ Your lesson plans must include the following information, even if your teacher preparation program requires you to use a specific lesson plan format:
 - State-adopted student academic content standards that are the target of student learning (Note: Please include the number and text of each standard that is being addressed. If only a portion of a standard is being addressed, then only list the part or parts that are relevant.)
 - Learning objectives (subject-specific, relevant, interdisciplinary) associated with the content standards
 - Informal and formal assessments used to monitor student learning, including type(s) of assessment and what is being assessed
 - Instructional strategies and learning tasks (including what you and the students will be doing) that support diverse student needs
 - Instructional resources and materials used to engage young adolescents in learning
- ❑ Each lesson plan must be no more than 4 pages in length. You will need to condense or excerpt lesson plans longer than 4 pages. Any explanations or rationale for decisions should be included in your Planning Commentary and deleted from your plans.
- ❑ Respond to the commentary prompts listed in the Planning Commentary section prior to teaching the learning segment.
- ❑ Submit your original lesson plans. If you make changes while teaching the learning segment, you may offer reflection on those changes in the Instruction Task 2 and Assessment Task 3 Commentaries.
- ❑ Select and submit key instructional materials needed to understand what you and the students will be doing (no more than 5 additional pages per lesson plan). The instructional materials might include such items as class handouts, assignments, slides, and interactive whiteboard images.
- ❑ Submit copies of all written assessments and/or directions for any oral or performance assessments. (Submit only the blank assessments given to students; do not submit student work samples for this task.)
- ❑ Provide citations for the source of all materials that you did not create (e.g., published texts, websites, and material from other educators). List all citations by lesson number at the end of the Planning Commentary. Note: Citations do not count toward the commentary page limit.

See the Planning Task 1: Artifacts and Commentary Specifications in the Middle Childhood History/Social Studies Evidence Chart for instructions on electronic submission of evidence. This evidence chart identifies templates, supported file types, number of files, response length, and other important evidence specifications. Your evidence cannot contain hyperlinked content. Any web content you wish to include as part of your evidence must be submitted as a document file, which must conform to the file format and response length requirements.

What Do I Need to Write?

In Planning Task 1, you will write

- a description of your Context for Learning (see “What Do I Need to Do?” above for directions)
- lesson plans (see “What Do I Need to Do?” above for directions)
- a commentary explaining your plans (see “Planning Commentary” below for directions)

Planning Commentary

In Planning Task 1, you will write a commentary, responding to the prompts below. Your commentary should be no more than 9 single-spaced pages, including the prompts.

1. Central Focus

- a. Describe the central focus and purpose of the content you will teach in the learning segment.
- b. Given the central focus, describe how the standards and learning objectives within your learning segment address
 - facts and concepts
 - inquiry, interpretation, or analysis skills
 - building and supporting arguments or conclusions
- c. Explain how your plans build on each other to help young adolescents make connections between facts, concepts, and inquiry, interpretation, or analysis skills to build and support arguments or conclusions about historical events, a topic/theme, or a social studies phenomenon.
- d. Explain how you will help young adolescents make interdisciplinary or integrative connections between the central focus of the learning segment and other subject areas.

2. Knowledge of Students to Inform Teaching

For each of the prompts below (2a–c), describe what you know about your students with respect to the central focus of the learning segment.

Consider the variety of young adolescent learners in your class who may require different strategies/support (e.g., students with IEPs or 504 plans, English language learners, struggling readers, underperforming students or those with gaps in academic knowledge, and/or gifted students).

- a. Prior academic learning and prerequisite skills related to the central focus—Cite evidence of what young adolescents know, what they can do, and what they are still learning to do.
- b. Personal, cultural, and community assets related to the central focus—What do you know about your students' everyday experiences, cultural and language backgrounds and practices, and interests?
- c. Young adolescent developmental assets related to the central focus—What do you know about your students' cognitive, physical, and social and emotional development?

3. Supporting Students' History/Social Studies Learning

Respond to prompts 3a–d below. To support your justifications, refer to the instructional materials and lesson plans you have included as part of Planning Task 1. In addition, support your justifications using principles from research and/or theory, including how the research/theory reflects elements of young adolescent development.

- a. Justify how your understanding of your students' prior academic learning (from prompt 2a above) guided your choice or adaptation of learning tasks and materials. Be explicit about the connections between the learning tasks and students' prior academic learning and research/theory.
- b. Justify how your understanding of your students' personal, cultural, community, and developmental assets (from prompts 2b–c above) guided your choice or adaptation of learning tasks and materials. Be explicit about the connections between the learning tasks and students' assets and research/theory.
- c. Describe and justify why your instructional strategies and planned supports are appropriate for the whole class, individuals, and groups of young adolescents with specific learning needs.
- d. Describe key misconceptions within your central focus and how you will address them.

Consider the variety of young adolescent learners in your class who may require different strategies/support (e.g., students with IEPs or 504 plans, English language learners, struggling readers, underperforming students or those with gaps in academic knowledge, and/or gifted students).

4. Supporting History/Social Studies Development Through Language

As you respond to prompts 4a–d, consider the range of students' language assets and needs—what do students already know, what are they struggling with, and/or what is new to them?

- a. Language Function. Using information about your students' language assets and needs, identify one language function essential for young adolescents to learn the history/social studies content within your central focus. Listed below are some sample language functions. You may choose one of these or another more appropriate for your learning segment.

Analyze	Compare/contrast	Construct	Describe	Evaluate
Examine	Identify	Interpret	Justify	Locate

- b. Identify a key learning task from your plans that provides young adolescents with opportunities to practice using the language function identified above. Identify the lesson in which the learning task occurs. (Give lesson day/number.)
- c. Additional Language Demands. Given the language function and learning task identified above, describe the following associated language demands (written or oral) young adolescents need to understand and/or use:
 - Vocabulary/symbols
 - Plus at least one of the following:
 - Syntax
 - Discourse
- d. Language Supports. Refer to your lesson plans and instructional materials as needed in your response to the prompt below.
 - Identify and describe the planned instructional supports (during and/or prior to the learning task) to help young adolescents understand, develop, and use the identified language demands (function, vocabulary/symbols, discourse, or syntax).

5. Monitoring Student Learning

In response to the prompts below, refer to the assessments you will submit as part of the materials for Planning Task 1.

- a. Describe how the planned formal and informal assessments provide direct evidence of how young adolescents learn and use facts, concepts, and inquiry, interpretation, or analysis skills to build and support arguments or conclusions about historical events, a topic/theme, or a social studies phenomenon throughout the learning segment.
- b. Explain how the design or adaptation of your planned assessments allows young adolescents with specific needs to demonstrate their learning.

Consider the variety of young adolescent learners in your class who may require different strategies/support (e.g., young adolescents with IEPs or 504 plans, English language learners, struggling readers, underperforming students or those with gaps in academic knowledge, and/or gifted students).

How Will the Evidence of My Teaching Practice Be Assessed?

For Planning Task 1, your evidence will be assessed using rubrics 1–5, which appear on the following pages. When preparing your artifacts and commentaries, refer to the rubrics frequently to guide your thinking, planning, and writing.

Planning Rubrics

Rubric 1: Planning for History/Social Studies Understandings

How do the candidate's plans build young adolescents' understandings of facts, concepts, and inquiry, interpretation, or analysis skills to build and support arguments or conclusions about historical events or a social studies phenomenon?

Level 1 ⁴	Level 2	Level 3	Level 4	Level 5
Candidate's plans for instruction focus solely on facts or a singular interpretation of historical events, a topic/theme, or a social studies phenomenon with little or no connections to <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • concepts AND • inquiry, interpretations, or analyses. OR There are significant content inaccuracies that will lead to student misunderstandings. OR Standards, objectives, and learning tasks and materials are not aligned with each other.	Candidate's plans for instruction support student learning of facts with vague connections to <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • concepts AND • inquiry, interpretations, or analyses. 	Candidate's plans for instruction build on each other to support student learning of facts with clear connections to <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • concepts AND • inquiry, interpretations, or analyses. 	Candidate's plans for instruction build on each other to support student learning of facts with clear and consistent connections to <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • concepts; • inquiry, interpretations, or analyses; AND • building arguments or conclusions. Plans support history/social studies learning and imply interdisciplinary connections.	Level 4 plus: Candidate explains how s/he will lead young adolescents to build explicit connections between inquiry, interpretations, or analyses and supporting arguments or conclusions as well as explicit and relevant interdisciplinary connections.

⁴ Text representing key differences between adjacent score levels is shown in bold. Evidence that does not meet Level 1 criteria is scored at Level 1.

Rubric 4: Identifying and Supporting Language Demands

How does the candidate identify and support language demands associated with a key history/social studies learning task?

Level 1	Level 2	Level 3	Level 4	Level 5
Language demands⁵ identified by the candidate are not consistent with the selected language function⁶ OR task. OR Language supports are missing or are not aligned with the language demand(s) for the learning task.	Language supports primarily address one language demand (vocabulary/symbols, function, syntax, discourse).	General language supports address use of two or more language demands (vocabulary/symbols, function, syntax, discourse).	Targeted language supports address use of <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • vocabulary/symbols, • language function, AND • one or more additional language demands (syntax, discourse). 	Level 4 plus: Language supports are designed to meet the needs of young adolescents with different levels of language learning.

⁵ Language demands include: language function, vocabulary/symbols, syntax, and discourse (organizational structures, text structure, etc.).

⁶ Language function refers to the learning outcome (verb) selected in prompt 4a (e.g., analyze, interpret).

Rubric 5: Planning Assessments to Monitor and Support Student Learning

How are the informal and formal assessments selected or designed to monitor young adolescents' progress toward understanding and use of facts, concepts, and inquiry, interpretations, or analyses to build arguments or conclusions?

Level 1	Level 2	Level 3	Level 4	Level 5
The assessments only provide evidence of young adolescents' recall of history/social studies facts. OR Candidate does not attend to ANY ASSESSMENT requirements in IEPs and 504 plans.	The assessments provide limited evidence to monitor young adolescents' progress toward developing history/social studies understandings and use of <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • facts, concepts, AND • inquiry, interpretations, or analyses during the learning segment.	The assessments provide evidence to monitor young adolescents' progress toward developing history/social studies understandings and use of <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • facts, concepts, AND • inquiry, interpretations, or analyses during the learning segment.	The assessments provide multiple forms of evidence to monitor young adolescents' progress toward developing history/social studies understandings and use of <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • facts, concepts, AND • inquiry, interpretations, or analyses to build arguments or conclusions throughout the learning segment.	Level 4 plus: The assessments are strategically designed to allow individuals or groups with specific needs to demonstrate their learning.

Instruction Task 2: Instructing and Engaging Students in Learning

What Do I Need to Think About?

In Instruction Task 2, you will demonstrate how you support and engage young adolescents in learning. Before you begin your instruction, you need to think about the following:

- What kind of learning environment do you want to develop in order to establish respect and rapport and to support young adolescents' engagement in learning?
- What kinds of learning tasks actively engage young adolescents in the central focus of the learning segment?
- How will you elicit and build on young adolescents' responses in ways that develop and deepen content understanding?
- In what ways will you connect new content to young adolescents' prior academic learning and personal, cultural, community, or developmental assets during your instruction?
- How will you use evidence from your instruction to examine and change your teaching practices to more effectively meet a variety of young adolescent learning needs?

What Do I Need to Do?

- Obtain required permissions for videorecording. Before you record your video, ensure that you have the appropriate permission from the parents/guardians of your students and from adults who appear in the video. Adjust the camera angle to exclude individuals for whom you do not have permission to film.
- Examine your plans for the learning segment and identify challenging learning tasks in which you and young adolescents are actively engaged. The video clips you select for submission should provide samples of how you develop young adolescents' abilities to use sources, form interpretations or analyses, and to build and support arguments or conclusions.
- Identify lessons to videorecord.
- Provide 2 video clips (no more than 20 minutes total, but not less than 3 minutes) that demonstrate how you interact with young adolescents in a positive learning environment to develop their ability to interpret or analyze accounts of historical events or a social studies phenomenon and to build and support their arguments or conclusions.
 - The first clip should illustrate how you engage young adolescent learners in tasks that develop their skills of inquiry, interpretation, or analysis of history social studies sources or accounts to build and support arguments or conclusions.

- The second clip should focus on how you supported young adolescents in using evidence from sources to form interpretations or analyses and to build and support arguments or conclusions about historical events, a topic/theme, or a social studies phenomenon.
- (Optional) Provide evidence of students' language use. You may provide evidence of language use with your video clips from Instruction Task 2, an additional video clip of one or more students using language within the learning segment (no more than 5 minutes in length), AND/OR through the student work samples analyzed in Assessment Task 3.
- Determine whether you will feature the whole class or a targeted group of students (minimum of 4 students) within the class.
- Videorecord your classroom teaching. Tips for videorecording your class are available from your teacher preparation program.
- Select video clips to submit and verify that the clips meet the following requirements:
 - Check the video and sound quality to ensure that you and your students can be seen and heard on the video clips you submit. If most of the audio in a clip cannot be understood by a scorer, submit another clip. If there are occasional audio portions of a clip that cannot be understood that are relevant to your commentary responses, do one of the following: 1) provide a transcript with time stamps of the inaudible portion and refer to the transcript in your response; 2) embed quotes with time-stamp references in the commentary response; or 3) insert captions in the video (captions for this purpose will be considered permissible editing).
 - A video clip must be continuous and unedited, with no interruption in events.
 - If you have inadvertently included individuals for whom you do not have permission to film in the video clip(s) you plan to submit, you may use software to blur the faces of these individuals. This is not considered editing. Other portions of the submitted video clip(s), including the classroom, your face, and the faces of individuals for whom you have obtained permission to film, should remain unblurred.
 - Do not include the name of the state, school, or district in your video. Use first names only for all individuals appearing in the video.
- Respond to the prompts listed in the Instruction Commentary section below after viewing the video clips.
- Determine if additional information is needed to understand what you and the students are doing in the video clips. For example, if there are graphics, texts, or images that are not clearly visible in the video, or comments that are not clearly heard, you may insert digital copies or transcriptions at the end of the Instruction Commentary (no more than 2 pages in addition to the responses to commentary prompts).

See the Instruction Task 2: Artifacts and Commentary Specifications in the Middle Childhood History/Social Studies Evidence Chart for instructions on electronic submission of evidence. This evidence chart identifies templates, supported file types, number of files, response length, and other important evidence specifications. Your evidence cannot contain hyperlinked content. Any web content you wish to include as part of your evidence must be submitted as a document file, which must conform to the file format and response length requirements.

What Do I Need to Write?

Instruction Commentary

In Instruction Task 2, you will write a commentary, responding to the prompts below. Your commentary should be no more than 6 single-spaced pages, including the prompts. If needed, insert no more than 2 additional pages of supporting documentation for the videorecordings at the end of the commentary (e.g., digital copies of indiscernible materials or transcriptions of inaudible comments). These additional pages do not count toward the commentary page limit noted above.

1. Which lesson or lessons are shown in the video clips? Identify the lesson(s) by lesson plan number.
2. Promoting a Positive Learning Environment
Refer to scenes in the video clips where you provided a positive learning environment.
 - a. How did you demonstrate mutual respect for, rapport with, and responsiveness to young adolescents with varied needs (academic and developmental) and backgrounds, and challenge young adolescents to engage in learning?
3. Engaging Students in Learning
Refer to examples from the video clips in your responses to the prompts.
 - a. Explain how your instruction engaged young adolescents in
 - developing the skills of inquiry, interpretation, or analysis in relation to sources or accounts of historical events or a social studies phenomenon
 - building and supporting arguments or conclusions
 - b. Describe how your instruction linked young adolescents' prior academic learning and personal, cultural, community, or developmental assets with new learning.
4. Deepening Student Learning during Instruction
Refer to examples from the clips in your explanations.
 - a. Explain how you elicited and built on student responses that supported young adolescents' ability to form inquiries, interpretations, or analyses of history/social studies sources or accounts AND build and support arguments or conclusions.
 - b. Describe and cite examples from the video clips of how you supported young adolescents in using evidence from one or more sources to support interpretations or analyses and arguments or conclusions about historical events or a social studies phenomenon.

5. Analyzing Teaching

Refer to examples from the video clips in your responses to the prompts.

- a. What changes would you make to your instruction—for the whole class and/or for students who need greater support or challenge—to better support student learning of the central focus (e.g., missed opportunities)?

Consider the variety of young adolescent learners in your class who may require different strategies/support (e.g., students with IEPs or 504 plans, English language learners, struggling readers, underperforming students or those with gaps in academic knowledge, and/or gifted students).

- b. Why do you think these changes would improve young adolescent learning? Support your explanation with evidence of young adolescent learning AND principles from theory and/or research, including young adolescent development.

How Will the Evidence of My Teaching Practice Be Assessed?

For Instruction Task 2, your evidence will be assessed using rubrics 6–10, which appear on the following pages. When preparing your artifacts and commentaries, refer to the rubrics frequently to guide your thinking, instruction, and writing.

Instruction Rubrics

Rubric 6: Learning Environment

How does the candidate demonstrate a positive learning environment that supports young adolescents' engagement in learning?

Level 1	Level 2	Level 3	Level 4	Level 5
The clips reveal evidence of disrespectful interactions between teacher and young adolescents or between young adolescents. OR Candidate allows disruptive behavior to interfere with young adolescent learning.	The candidate demonstrates respect for young adolescents. AND Candidate provides a learning environment that serves primarily to control young adolescent behavior, and minimally supports the learning goals.	The candidate demonstrates rapport with and respect for young adolescents. AND Candidate provides a positive, low-risk learning environment that reveals mutual respect among young adolescents.	The candidate demonstrates rapport with and respect for young adolescents. AND Candidate provides a challenging learning environment that promotes mutual respect among young adolescents.	The candidate demonstrates rapport with and respect for young adolescents. AND Candidate provides a challenging learning environment that provides opportunities to express varied perspectives and promotes mutual respect among young adolescents.

Rubric 7: Engaging Students in Learning

How does the candidate engage young adolescents in inquiry, interpretation, or analysis of history/social studies sources or accounts and building arguments or conclusions?

Level 1	Level 2	Level 3	Level 4	Level 5
Young adolescents are participating in tasks that are vaguely or superficially connected to historical events or social studies phenomena.	Young adolescents are participating in learning tasks focusing primarily on facts or single interpretations.	Young adolescents are engaged in learning tasks that address their skills of inquiry, interpretation, or analysis of history/social studies sources or accounts.	Young adolescents are engaged in learning tasks that develop their skills of inquiry, interpretation, or analysis of history/social studies sources or accounts AND in building arguments or conclusions.	Level 4 plus: Learning tasks deepen knowledge, extend skills, AND provide evidence of students supporting their arguments or conclusions.
There is little or no evidence that the candidate links young adolescents' prior academic learning or personal, cultural, community, or developmental assets with new learning.	Candidate makes vague or superficial links between prior academic learning and new learning.	Candidate links prior academic learning to new learning.	Candidate links prior academic learning AND personal, cultural, community, or developmental assets to new learning.	Candidate prompts young adolescents to link prior academic learning AND personal, cultural, community, or developmental assets to new learning.

Rubric 8: Deepening Student Learning

How does the candidate elicit young adolescent learners' responses to promote their ability to inquire about, interpret, or analyze history/social studies sources/accounts and to build arguments or conclusions?

Level 1	Level 2	Level 3	Level 4	Level 5
Candidate does most of the talking and young adolescents provide few responses. OR Candidate responses include significant content inaccuracies that will lead to young adolescent misunderstandings.	Candidate primarily asks surface-level questions and evaluates young adolescents' responses as correct or incorrect.	Candidate elicits young adolescents' responses that require interpretations or analyses of history/social studies sources or accounts.	Candidate elicits and builds on young adolescents' responses to develop interpretations or analyses of history/social studies sources or accounts OR to build arguments or conclusions.	Level 4 plus: Candidate facilitates interactions among young adolescents to develop their abilities to evaluate their own interpretations, analyses, arguments, or conclusions.

Rubric 9: Subject-Specific Pedagogy

How does the candidate support young adolescents in using evidence from sources as they interpret or analyze and build and support arguments or conclusions?

Level 1	Level 2	Level 3	Level 4	Level 5
Candidate primarily focuses on facts with little or no attention to interpretation, analysis, or building arguments or conclusions.	Candidate provides limited opportunities for young adolescents to interpret source(s) or build arguments or conclusions because they are primarily focused on demonstrating these skills for the class.	Candidate prompts young adolescents to use evidence from source(s) as the students interpret, analyze, OR build arguments or conclusions.	Candidate supports young adolescents in using evidence from multiple sources to build and support arguments or conclusions.	Level 4 plus: Candidate uses counter or alternative evidence from source(s) to challenge young adolescents to support arguments or conclusions.

Rubric 10: Analyzing Teaching Effectiveness

How does the candidate use evidence to evaluate and change teaching practice to meet young adolescents' varied learning needs?

Level 1	Level 2	Level 3	Level 4	Level 5
Candidate suggests changes unrelated to evidence of young adolescent learning.	Candidate proposes changes to teacher practice that are superficially related to student learning needs (e.g., task management, pacing, improving directions).	Candidate proposes changes that address young adolescents' collective learning needs related to the central focus. Candidate makes superficial connections to research and/or theory.	Candidate proposes changes that address individual and collective learning needs related to the central focus. Candidate makes connections to research and/or theory, including young adolescent development.	Level 4 plus: Candidate justifies changes using principles from research and/or theory , including young adolescent development.

Assessment Task 3: Assessing Student Learning

What Do I Need to Think About?

In Assessment Task 3, you will analyze both student learning and student use of language. Before you begin the analysis, you need to think about the following:

- How will you gather evidence and make sense of what students have learned?
- How will you provide meaningful feedback to your students?
- How will you use evidence of what students know and are able to do to plan next steps in instruction?
- How will you identify evidence of and explain students' use of language that demonstrates the development of content understanding?

What Do I Need to Do?

- Select one assessment from your learning segment you will use to evaluate your students' developing knowledge and skills. It should be an assessment that is completed by the whole class featured in the learning segment. (If you are teaching only a group within the class for the learning segment, that group will be "the whole class.") The assessment should reflect the work of individuals, not groups, but may be individual work from a group task. The assessment should provide opportunities for students to demonstrate their ability to do the following:
 - understand/use facts and concepts
 - use inquiry, interpretation, or analysis skills
 - build and support arguments or conclusions
- Define and submit the evaluation criteria you will use to analyze young adolescent learning related to the history/social studies understandings described above.
- Collect and analyze student work from the selected assessment to identify quantitative and qualitative patterns of learning within and across learners in the class. You may submit text files with scanned student work, a video or audio file of a student's oral work, OR a student-created video or multimedia file. For each focus student, a video or audio work sample must be no more than 5 minutes in total running time.
- Select 3 student work samples that represent the patterns of learning (i.e., what individuals or groups generally understood and what a number of young adolescents were still struggling to understand) you identified in your assessment analysis. These students will be your focus students for this task. At least one of the focus students must have specific learning needs, for example, a student with an IEP (Individualized Education Program) or 504 plan, an English language learner, a struggling reader, an underperforming student or a student with gaps in academic knowledge, and/or a gifted student needing greater support or challenge. Note: California candidates must include one focus student who is an English language learner.⁷

- ❑ Document the feedback you gave to each of the 3 focus students on the work sample itself, as an audio clip, or as a video clip. You must submit evidence of the actual feedback provided to each focus student, and not a description of the feedback.
- ❑ If you submit a student work sample or feedback as a video or audio clip and comments made by you or your focus student(s) cannot be clearly heard, do one of the following: 1) attach a transcription of the inaudible comments (no more than 2 additional pages) to the end of the Assessment Commentary; 2) embed quotes with time-stamp references in the commentary response; or 3) insert captions in the video (captions for this purpose will be considered permissible editing).
- ❑ If you submit a student work sample or feedback as a video or audio clip and additional students are present, clearly identify which students are your focus students in the relevant prompts (1d and 2a) of the Assessment Commentary (in no more than 2 sentences).
- ❑ Respond to the prompts listed in the Assessment Commentary section below after analyzing student work from the selected assessment.
- ❑ Include and submit the chosen assessment, including the directions/prompts provided to students. Attach the assessment (no more than 5 additional pages) to the end of the Assessment Commentary.
- ❑ Provide evidence of young adolescents' understanding and use of the targeted academic language function and other language demands. You may choose evidence from the video clips submitted in Instruction Task 2, an additional video clip of one or more students using language within the learning segment (no more than 5 minutes in length), AND/OR student work samples submitted in Assessment Task 3.

See the Assessment Task 3: Artifacts and Commentary Specifications in the Middle Childhood History/Social Studies Evidence Chart for instructions on electronic submission of evidence. This evidence chart identifies templates, supported file types, number of files, response length, and other important evidence specifications. Your evidence cannot contain hyperlinked content. Any web content you wish to include as part of your evidence must be submitted as a document file, which must conform to the file format and response length requirements.

What Do I Need to Write?

Assessment Commentary

In Assessment Task 3, you will write a commentary, responding to the prompts below. Your commentary should be no more than 10 single-spaced pages, including the prompts. Attach the assessment used to evaluate student performance (no more than 5 additional pages) and, if necessary, a transcription of inaudible portions of a video or audio clip of feedback or a student work sample (no more than 2 additional pages) to the end of the Assessment Commentary. These additional pages do not count toward the commentary page limit noted above.

⁷ California candidates—If you do not have any English language learners, select a student who is challenged by academic English.

1. Analyzing Student Learning

- a. Identify the specific learning objectives measured by the assessment you chose for analysis.
- b. Provide a graphic (table or chart) or narrative that summarizes student learning for your whole class. Be sure to summarize student learning for all evaluation criteria submitted in Assessment Task 3, Part D.
- c. Use evidence found in the 3 student work samples and the whole class summary to analyze the patterns of learning for the whole class and differences for groups or individual learners relative to
 - facts and concepts
 - inquiry, interpretation, or analysis skills
 - building and supporting arguments or conclusions

Consider what young adolescents understand and do well, and where they continue to struggle (e.g., common errors, confusions, need for greater challenge).

- d. If a video or audio work sample occurs in a group context (e.g., discussion), provide the name of the clip and clearly describe how the scorer can identify the focus student(s) (e.g., position, physical description) whose work is portrayed.

2. Feedback to Guide Further Learning

Refer to specific evidence of submitted feedback to support your explanations.

- a. Identify the format in which you submitted your evidence of feedback for the 3 focus students. Choose one of the following:
 - Written directly on work samples or in separate documents that were provided to the focus students
 - In audio files
 - In video clips from Instruction Task 2 (provide a time-stamp reference) or in separate video clips

If a video or audio clip of feedback occurs in a group context (e.g., discussion), clearly describe how the scorer can identify the focus student (e.g., position, physical description) who is being given feedback.

- b. Explain how feedback provided to the 3 focus students addresses their individual strengths and needs relative to the learning objectives measured.
- c. Describe how you will support each focus student to understand and use this feedback to further their learning related to learning objectives, either within the learning segment or at a later time.

3. Evidence of Language Understanding and Use

When responding to the prompt below, use concrete examples from the clip(s) and/or student work samples as evidence. Evidence from the clip(s) may focus on one or more students.

You may provide evidence of students' language use from ONE, TWO, OR ALL THREE of the following sources:

1. Use video clips from Instruction Task 2 and provide time-stamp references for evidence of language use.
2. Submit an additional video file named "Language Use" of no more than 5 minutes in length and cite language use (this can be footage of one or more students' language use). Submit the clip in Assessment Task 3, Part B.
3. Use the student work samples analyzed in Assessment Task 3 and cite language use.

- a. Explain and provide concrete examples for the extent to which your students were able to use or struggled to use the
 - selected language function,
 - vocabulary/symbols, AND
 - discourse or syntax
 to develop content understandings.

4. Using Assessment to Inform Instruction

- a. Based on your analysis of young adolescent learning presented in prompts 1b–c, describe next steps for instruction to impact student learning:
 - For the whole class
 - For the 3 focus students and other individuals/groups with specific needs

Consider the variety of young adolescent learners in your class who may require different strategies/support (e.g., students with IEPs or 504 plans, English language learners, struggling readers, underperforming students or those with gaps in academic knowledge, and/or gifted students).

- b. Explain how these next steps follow from your analysis of young adolescent learning. Support your explanation with principles from research and/or theory as well as young adolescent development.

How Will the Evidence of My Teaching Practice Be Assessed?

For Assessment Task 3, your evidence will be assessed using rubrics 11–15, which appear on the following pages. When preparing your artifacts and commentaries, refer to the rubrics frequently to guide your thinking, planning, instruction, assessment, and writing.

Professional Responsibilities

Refer to the following table for an overview of your professional responsibilities in developing evidence for edTPA. If you are submitting artifacts and commentaries for official scoring, refer to www.edTPA.com for complete and current information before beginning your work. Included here are important information and policies such as submission requirements and deadlines, registration agreements, attestations, permissions, and confidentiality. Whether or not you are submitting for official scoring, you should fulfill the professional responsibilities described below.

Responsibility	Description
Protect confidentiality	To protect confidentiality, please remove your name and use pseudonyms or general references (e.g., “the district”) for your state, school, district, and cooperating teacher. Mask or remove all names on any typed or written material (e.g., commentaries, lesson plans, student work samples) that could identify individuals or institutions. During videorecording, use students’ first names only. To ensure confidentiality of your students and yourself, do not share your video on any publicly accessible platforms or websites (YouTube, Facebook, etc.).
Acquire permissions	Before you record your classroom instruction, ensure that you have the appropriate permission from the parents/guardians of your students and from adults who appear in the videorecording. Your program will provide you with procedures and necessary forms to obtain these permissions, according to agreements with the school or district in which you are student teaching or completing your internship. If your program does not provide the necessary forms, you may refer to the sample forms found on www.edTPA.com. The release forms are not to be submitted with your materials, but you should follow your campus policy for retaining them.
Cite sources	Provide citations for the source of all materials that you did not create (e.g., published texts, websites, and material from other educators). List all citations by lesson number at the end of the Planning Commentary. Note: Citations do not count toward the commentary page limit.
Align instruction with state standards	As part of the assessment, you will document the alignment of your lesson plans with state-adopted academic content standards that are the target of student learning. Refer to the education agency website for your state to obtain copies of relevant standards for this assessment.
Follow the guidelines for candidate support at www.edTPA.com	Follow the guidelines for candidate support found at www.edTPA.com as you develop your evidence for edTPA. Although you may seek and receive appropriate support from your university supervisors, cooperating/master teachers, university instructors, or peers during this process, the ultimate responsibility for completing this assessment lies with you. Therefore, when you submit your completed work, you must be able to confirm your adherence with certain statements, such as the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ I have primary responsibility for teaching the students/class during the learning segment profiled in this assessment. ■ I have not previously taught this learning segment to the students/class. ■ The video clips submitted are unedited (continuous) and show me teaching the students/class profiled in the evidence submitted. ■ The student work included in the documentation is that of my students, completed during the learning segment documented in this assessment. ■ I am author of the commentaries and other written responses to prompts in this assessment. ■ Appropriate citations have been made for all materials in the assessment whose sources are from published text, the Internet, or other educators.

As needed, consult with your cooperating teacher to complete the charts. Some rows have been completed in italics as examples. Use as many rows as you need.

Consider the variety of young adolescent learners in your class who may require different strategies/supports or accommodations/modifications to instruction or assessment. For example, students

- With Individualized Education Programs (IEPs) or 504 plans
- With specific language needs
- Needing greater challenge or support
- Who struggle with reading
- Who are underperforming students or have gaps in academic knowledge

For Assessment Task 3, you will choose work samples from 3 focus students. At least one of these students must have a specified learning need. Note: California candidates must include one focus student who is an English language learner.¹¹

¹¹ California candidates—If you do not have any English language learners, select a student who is challenged by academic English.

Students with IEPs/504 Plans
IEPs/504 Plans: Classifications/Needs	Number of Students	Supports, Accommodations, Modifications, Pertinent IEP Goals
Example: Learning disability	2	Close monitoring, copy of PowerPoint notes and follow up

Students with Specific Language Needs
Language Needs	Number of Students	Supports, Accommodations, Modifications
Example: English language learners with only a few words of English	2	Pre-teach key words and phrases through examples and graphic organizers (e.g., word cluster, manipulatives, visuals) Have students use pre-taught key words and graphic organizers to complete sentence starters
Example: Students who speak a variety of English other than that used in textbooks	5	Make connections between the language students bring and the language used in the textbook

Students with Other Learning Needs
Other Learning Needs	Number of Students	Supports, Accommodations, Modifications
Example: Struggling readers	5	Provide oral explanations for directions, extended time, and sentence frames to support written responses

Middle Childhood History/Social Studies Evidence Chart

Your evidence must be submitted to the electronic portfolio management system used by your teacher preparation program. Your submission must conform to the artifact and commentary specifications for each task. This section provides instructions for all evidence types as well as a description of supported file types for evidence submission, number of files, response lengths, and other information regarding format specifications. Note that your evidence cannot contain hyperlinked content. Any web content you wish to include as part of your evidence must be submitted as a document file, which must conform to the file format and response length requirements. If you have materials that must be translated into English as per the edTPA Submission Requirements, those translations should be added to the original materials as part of the same file or, if applicable, to the end of the commentary template. There is no page limit for required translations into English.

Glossary

academic language: Oral and written language used for academic purposes. Academic language is the means by which students develop and express content understandings. Academic language represents the language of the discipline that students need to learn and use to participate and engage in the content area in meaningful ways. There are language demands that teachers need to consider as they plan to support student learning of content. These language demands include language functions, vocabulary, discourse, and syntax.

- language demands:¹⁵ Specific ways that academic language (vocabulary/symbols, functions, discourse, syntax) is used by students to participate in learning tasks through reading, writing, listening, and/or speaking to demonstrate their disciplinary understanding.
- language functions: The content and language focus of the learning task represented by the active verbs within the learning outcomes. Common language functions in history/social studies include interpreting maps, graphs, and data tables; evaluating and interpreting an author/presenter/historian’s purpose and message; examining evidence an author/presenter/historian uses to support claims; analyzing arguments in favor of a perspective; writing/presenting persuasive arguments; analyzing and/or describing causes of historical, economic, geographic, and political events; and defending argument with evidence.
- vocabulary: Includes words and phrases that are used within disciplines, including: (1) words and phrases with subject-specific meanings that differ from meanings used in everyday life (e.g., table); (2) general academic vocabulary used across disciplines (e.g., compare, analyze, evaluate); and (3) subject-specific words defined for use in the discipline.¹⁶
- discourse: Discourse includes the structures of written and oral language, as well as how members of the discipline talk, write, and participate in knowledge construction. Discipline-specific discourse has distinctive features or ways of structuring oral or written language (text structures) that provide useful ways for the content to be communicated.¹⁷ In history/social studies, language features include expository, narrative, journalistic, maps, and other graphic print materials; presentations of data in text, charts, and graphs; and video and live presentations. Discourse structures can be at the sentence, paragraph, or symbolic level. If the function is to develop a document-based argument, then appropriate language features could include written essays with specified formats and pattern sentences such as “The two main causes of _____ were _____ and _____. For example, the (author of) (document) stated that _____” (citation).

- syntax: The set of conventions for organizing symbols, words, and phrases together into structures (e.g., sentences, graphs, tables).¹⁸
- language supports: The scaffolds, representations, and pedagogical strategies teachers provide to help learners understand, use, and practice the concepts and language they need to learn within disciplines (Santos, Darling-Hammond, Cheuk, 2012).¹⁹ The language supports planned within the lessons in edTPA should directly support learners to understand and use identified language demands (vocabulary/symbols, language function, and discourse or syntax) to deepen content understandings.

aligned: Consistently addressing the same/similar learning outcomes for students.

analysis: Detailed examination of the elements or structure of something; the process of separating something into its constituent elements.²⁰ arguments: Use evidence to support claims about a historical event, topic/issue, or social studies phenomenon. Evidence comes from analysis and/or interpretation of history/social studies sources.

artifacts: Authentic work completed by you and your students. Artifacts include lesson plans, copies of instructional and assessment materials, video clips of your teaching, and student work samples. Artifacts are submitted as part of your evidence.

assessment (formal and informal): “[R]efer[s] to all those activities undertaken by teachers and by their students . . . that provide information to be used as feedback to modify teaching and learning activities.”²¹ Assessments provide evidence of students’ prior knowledge, thinking, or learning in order to evaluate what students understand and how they are thinking. Informal assessments may include, for example, student questions and responses during instruction and teacher observations of students as they work or perform. Formal assessments may include, for example, quizzes, homework assignments, journals, projects, and performance tasks.

assets (knowledge of students):

- personal: Refers to specific background information that young adolescents bring to the learning environment. Students may bring interests, knowledge, everyday experiences, family backgrounds, and so on, which a teacher can draw upon to support learning.

- cultural: Refers to the cultural backgrounds and practices that young adolescents bring to the learning environment, such as traditions, languages and dialects, worldviews, literature, art, and so on, that a teacher can draw upon to support learning.
- community: Refers to common backgrounds and experiences that young adolescents bring from the community where they live, such as resources, local landmarks, community events and practices, and so on, that a teacher can draw upon to support learning.
- developmental: Refers to specific background information about cognitive, physical, social, and emotional development that a teacher can draw upon to support student learning.

central focus: A description of the important understandings and core concepts that you want students to develop within the learning segment. The central focus should go beyond a list of facts and skills, align with content standards and learning objectives, and address the subject-specific components in the learning segment. For example, a central focus for a Middle Childhood History/Social Studies learning segment might be “the effects of British colonial rule in India” or “the role of political parties in the electoral process.” The learning segment would focus on facts, concepts, analyses, and interpretations of sources to build and support arguments about historical events, a topic/theme, or a social studies phenomenon.

cognitive development: Refers to the changes and advancement that occur in intellectual development during adolescence, such as the shift from concrete operational thinking to formal abstract thinking.

commentary: Submitted as part of each task and, along with artifacts, make up your evidence. The commentaries should be written to explain the rationale behind your teaching decisions and to analyze and reflect on what you have learned about your teaching practice and your students’ learning.

concepts: The categories we use to cluster information. They organize specific information under one label (e.g., shelter, family, community, democracy, region). Concepts summarize and categorize objects. The difficulty of learning a concept depends on the number of characteristics, the abstractness or concreteness, and the reasoning that connects the characteristics.

conclusion: A final decision or judgment: an opinion or decision that is formed after a period of thought or research.²² engaging students in learning: Using instructional and motivational strategies that promote students’ active involvement in learning tasks that increase their knowledge, skills, and abilities related to specific learning objectives. Engagement in learning contrasts with student participation in learning tasks that are not well-designed and/or implemented and do not increase student learning.

evaluation criteria: Performance indicators or dimensions that are used to assess evidence of student learning. They indicate the qualities by which levels of performance can be differentiated and that anchor judgments about the learner's degree of success on an assessment. Evaluation criteria can be represented in various ways, such as a rubric, a point system for different levels of performance, or rules for awarding full versus partial credit. Evaluation criteria may examine correctness/accuracy, cognitive complexity, sophistication or elaboration of responses, or quality of explanations.

evidence: Evidence for edTPA consists of artifacts that document how you planned and implemented instruction AND commentaries that explain your plans and what is seen in the videorecording(s) or examine what you learned about your teaching practice and your students' learning. Evidence should demonstrate your ability to design lesson plans with instructional supports that deepen student learning, use knowledge of your students to inform instruction, foster a positive learning environment that promotes student learning, monitor and assess student progress toward learning objectives, and analyze your teaching effectiveness. Your evidence must be submitted electronically using the electronic portfolio management system used by your teacher preparation program.

facts: Knowledge or information based on real occurrences: a. something demonstrated to exist or known to have existed; b. a real occurrence, an event; c. something believed to be true or real.

inquiry: Seeking information by questioning and/or through investigation. "While questioning and searching for answers are extremely important parts of inquiry, effectively generating knowledge from this questioning and searching is greatly aided by a conceptual context for learning. Just as students should not be focused only on content as the ultimate outcome of learning, neither should they be asking questions and searching for answers about minutiae. . . . Inquiry in education should be about a greater understanding of the world in which they live, learn, communicate, and work."²³ integrative: The Association for Middle Level Education (AMLE) encourages middle grades teachers to design curriculum and select materials that are integrative, challenging, and grounded in the ideas, interests, and experiences of all young adolescents. In an integrative curriculum, a problem or issue, often initiated by the learners, is the driving force for organizing the curriculum.

interdisciplinary: An interdisciplinary curriculum makes connections across several disciplines through a theme that crosses curricular lines. The learning experiences require that knowledge from several disciplines be utilized to explore the concepts and skills of the curriculum.

interpret: "To give or provide the meaning of; explain; explicate; elucidate" or "to understand in a particular way."²⁴ learning environment: The designed physical and emotional context, established and maintained throughout the learning segment to support a positive and productive learning experience for students.

learning objectives: Student learning outcomes to be achieved by the end of the lesson or learning segment.

²³ Educational Broadcasting Corporation. (2004). What is inquiry-based learning? Concept to Classroom: A Series of Workshops. Retrieved from <http://www.thirteen.org/edonline/concept2class/inquiry/index.html>.

²⁴ Interpret. (n.d.) In Dictionary.com. Retrieved from <http://dictionary.reference.com/browse/interpret> learning segment: A set of 3–5 lessons that build one upon another toward a central focus, with a clearly defined beginning and end.

learning task: Includes activities, discussions, or other modes of participation that engage students to develop, practice, and apply skills and knowledge related to a specific learning goal. Learning tasks may be scaffolded to connect prior knowledge to new knowledge and often include formative assessment.

patterns of learning: Includes both quantitative and qualitative patterns (or consistencies) for different groups of students or individuals. Quantitative patterns indicate in a numerical way the information understood from the assessment (e.g., 10 out of 15 students or 20% of the students). Qualitative patterns include descriptions of understandings, misunderstandings, and/or partial understandings that could explain the quantitative patterns (e.g., “given that most students were able to . . . it seems that they understand”).

physical development: Refers to the growth and development of skeletal, structural, and muscular systems that includes the changes brought about by puberty.

planned supports: Instructional strategies, learning tasks and materials, and other resources deliberately designed to facilitate student learning of the central focus.

prior academic learning and prerequisite skills: Includes students’ content knowledge and skills as well as academic experiences developed prior to the learning segment.

rappro: A close and harmonious relationship in which the people or groups understand each other’s feelings or ideas and communicate well with each other.

respect: A positive feeling of esteem or deference for a person and specific actions and conduct representative of that esteem. Respect can be a specific feeling of regard for the actual qualities of the one respected. It can also be conduct in accord with a specific ethic of respect. Rude conduct is usually considered to indicate a lack of respect, disrespect, whereas actions that honor somebody or something indicate respect. Note that respectful actions and conduct are culturally defined and may be context dependent.

rubrics: Subject-specific evaluation criteria used to score your performance on edTPA. These rubrics are included in the handbook following the directions for each task. The descriptors in the five-level rubrics address a wide range of performance, beginning with the knowledge and skills of a novice not ready to teach (Level 1) and extending to the advanced practices of a highly accomplished beginner (Level 5).

social and emotional development: Refers to the ways in which adolescents develop understandings of self and others. Milestones at various levels of development include identity formation, self-awareness/self-concept, pro-social behavior, peer relationships, social responsibility, and moral reasoning.

social studies phenomenon: Observable occurrence, circumstance, or behavior within the discipline of history/social studies (e.g., civil war, racism, revolution, civic engagement, rationality, crime, peace, poverty).

variety of young adolescent learners: Students in your class who may require different strategies or support. These young adolescents include but are not limited to students with IEPs or 504 plans, English language learners, struggling readers, underperforming students or those with gaps in academic knowledge, and/or gifted students.
