2. State as follows: Students should be able to [action verb] [something]. Students should be able to participate in a presentation/interview in Mandarin Chinese with accurate vocabulary and grammar, and with sufficient fluency so as to be comprehensible to the Chinese interlocuter

Question: What specific question(s) are you attempting to answer through assessing this student outcome? (What are you trying to find out? There may be more than one question, but no more than three.) Are students able to use Mandarin Chinese in a sufficiently proficient manner in order to participate in an extemporaneous interview with a native speaker?

Methodology

1. Student Outcome - OBJECT***
  - a. What student artifact from the traditional course will be used to assess the outcome? final scores from the oral portion of the CHNS 202 exam
    - i. How will the artifact be collected? The instructor will compile scores from the oral portion of the CHNS 202 final exam.
  - b. What student artifact from the alternative course(s) will be used to assess the outcome? final scores from the oral portion of the CHNS 202 exam
    - i. How will the artifact be collected? Each instructor will compile scores from the oral portion of the CHNS 202 final exam.

Analysis of Artifacts:

- 1) Student Outcome: PERFORMANCE CRITERIA***
  - a. How will the artifacts be analyzed (attach rubrics/scoring tools if used):
    - i. Traditional course: Compiled scores for the oral portion of the final exam will be analyzed and a mean score for the class (percentage) will be determined.
    - ii. Alternative course(s) (note SAME if the same as the traditional course): SAME
- 2) COMPARABILITY - How you will determine if the outcomes of the two are comparable? (For example – there will not be a statistically significant difference among the mean final exam scores).
When the mean scores of the on-campus CHNS 201 classes and the alternate CHNS 201 class are compared, the mean score for each alternate class will equal or exceed the mean score for the on-campus class.
